Dedicated to my nieces and nephews,

at all interested!

Nov. 1938-

1737 TO THE GLORY OF GOD 1937
and in Memory of
Lt. Col. LEVEN POWELL and SARAH his Wife of THE SHADES-MIDDLEBURG

LEVEN POWELL was descended in the fourth generation from WALTER POWELL, who came to NORTHUMBERLAND COUNTY in the DOMINION of VIRGINIA in the year 1647, whence he removed in 1669 to SOMERSET COUNTY, PROVINCE of MARYLAND. LEVEN POWELL was born in PRINCE WILLIAM COUNTY, VIRGINIA, in 1737, the eldest child of WILLIAM POWELL, JR. and ELEANOR, daughter of COL. VALENTINE PEYTON. After his marriage in 1763, he settled in LOUDOUN COUNTY, where he built the first flour mill in that section of the Northern Neck. In 1784 the General Assembly granted him 6000 acres and in 1787 he dedicated 50 acres of this land for a town-site, to which was given the name of MIDDLEBURG.

Justice of the Peace 1769; Co-author of the Loudoun Resolution of 1774; Major of Minute Men, with whom he served throughout the military operations of 1775-6 against Lord Dunmore; Member of the Loudoun Committee of Safety and Correspondence 1775-6; Lt. Col. of the 16th Va. Regt. Continental Army, with which he served at Whitewater and Valley Forge 1777-8; Fiscal Agent of the Federal Government 1778-81; Member of the Virginia Convention of 1788 for ratification of the U. S. Constitution; Presidential Elector 1796; Member of Congress 1799-1801.

HE SERVED HIS COUNTRY WELL AS

PATRIOT SOLDIER STATESMAN CITIZEN

He died at BEDFORD SPRINGS, PA. on the twenty-third day of August, 1810, and is there buried.

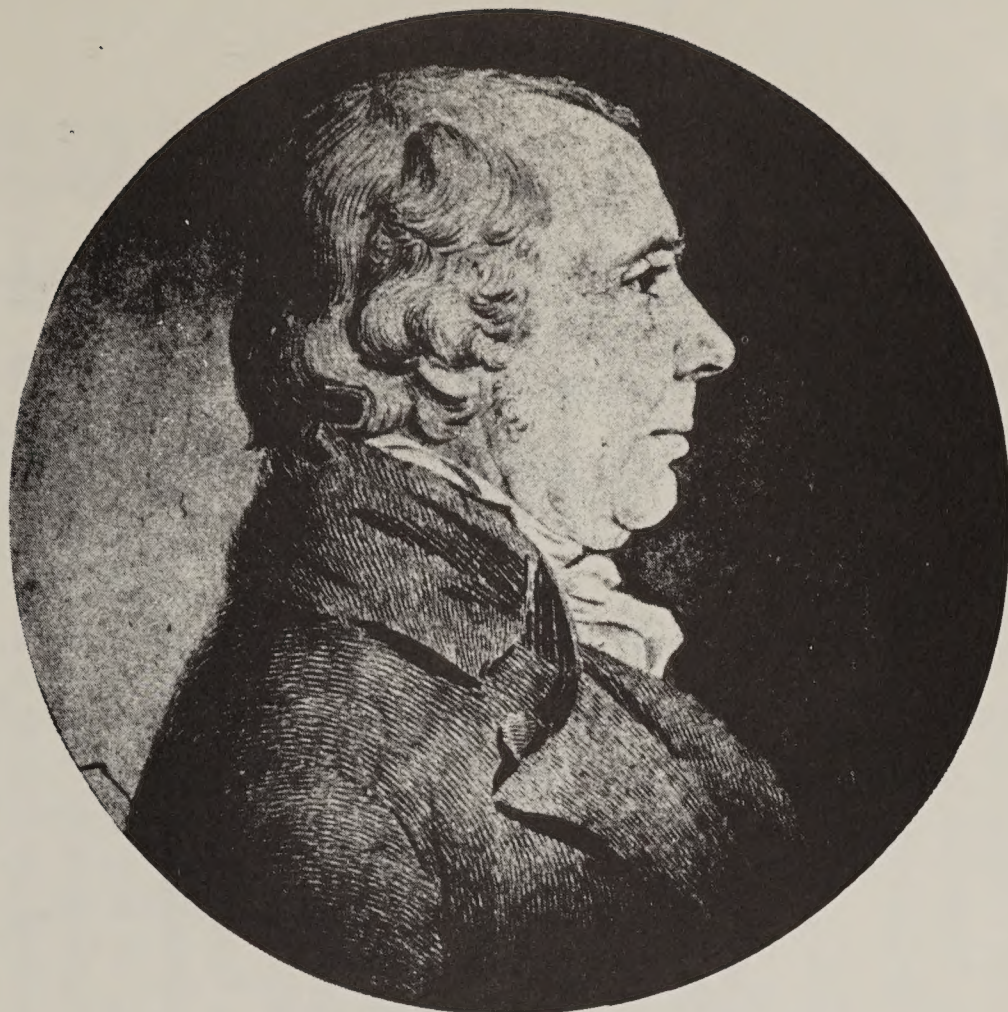

SARAH, daughter of the 2nd BURR HARRISON, of CHAPPAWAMSI, PRINCE WILLIAM COUNTY, was born in 1737, and died in MIDDLEBURG on the twelfth day of October, 1812, and is buried in this Village Graveyard.

She was a faithful consort and the admirable mother of six sons and two daughters.

On this 200th anniversary of their births this tablet is erected by their descendants.

All that remains of his home, "The Shades," probably built soon after his marriage in 1763, on outskirts of town of Middleburg, later laid out by him (1787). The house was burned during the War, after it had passed from Powell ownership.

This is one of the old slave quarters, standing about fifty yards from house site.

So much has already been written of the Powell family, and so much more is being planned that I have made no attempt to expand beyond the actual Tree, except to give this brief background of our branch. Since different members of our family hold differing beliefs as to the first of our line to come to Virginia, these variations are given herein. And as the research done by James Evans has convinced me of our descent from Walter, I give him chief place. None of our genealogists seem able to bridge with positive proof the gap across the Atlantic Ocean. Our first ancestor probably wished, as did so many of the early colonists, to cut himself off entirely from the old country.

Many immigrants of the name of Powell are listed in the Sixteenth and seventeenth centuries. In Holten's "Original Lists of Persons of quality, Emigrants, Religious and Political Exiles, etc, from 1600 to 1700"; there are 71 Powells! many repetitions, of course, of first names: 9 Thomases, 8 Richards, 7 Williams, 6 Johns, 6 Annes, Nathaniel, Henry etc., and only one Walter.

Robson's "Cabinet of Armorial Bearings" lists 34 Powells, each with his individual coat of arms. However, since all of our own line have unwaveringly, for 200 years claimed the arms borne by the family of Castle Madoc, Co. Brecknock, it seems fairly certain that verbal tradition, if no written record, proves our descent from this branch.

We can feel proud of our forebears, for as burgesses, and later as members of Congress, vestry men, soldiers, justices, sheriffs, and planters, they played important parts in early Va history. Marriages, too, connected us with many prominent families.

The name has certainly left its mark, for I have found in old records and in old maps, a Powellville on the Pocomoke R, Eastern Shore, a Powell's Island in Chesapeake Bay, a Powell's Valley, a Powell's Fort, Powell's River, Powell's Brook, a Powell's Mt, and even Powell's Pumpkin Patch!

Walter Powell is in Holten's Lists, and also in Nugent's "Pioneers and Cavaliers"; where he is named as coming to Va in 1643, with Col. Samuel Mathews. This latter proved to be a man of worth, for later he was twice Gov. of Va. He received as head rights for bringing in 80 persons, 4,000 acres of land. He was a Quaker, and Walter's will revealed that he too was of that faith. The fact that Gov. Berkeley's efforts to stamp out non-conformity was making Va unattractive to Quakers probably explains Walter's departure, cir 1668, from Lancaster Co. Va, to Somerset Co. Maryland. To quote from "Side Lights of Md. History" "Walter Powell was a gentleman of substance and social position, and was affiliated in religion with the peaceful people called Quakers." In 1671 he disposed of his immigration land rights, received for bringing himself & family into Md. as follows: "... I, Walter Powell of Somerset Co. in the Province of Md. planter, ... do assign and set over ... all my rights title, interest ... to one hundred and fifty acres of land due to me for transporting myself, Margaret my wife, and Elizabeth Powell my child, out of Va. into this Province. (Annapolis Land Records)

Walter Powell's home was Greenfields on the Pocomoke R.; here six of his children were born, & their births were registered in the records of the county. He received grants of more than 1600 acres, which he left to his children in his will, pro. Feb. 4, 1696. The will concludes thus: "I ordain & appoint my three sons, Wm Powell, John Powell & Henry Schoolfield my sole executors of this my last will & testament, & whenever it pleases God to take me out of this world, I give my soul unto Him, and my body unto my friends called Quakers, my body to be buried according to their manner". His children married into fine old Somerset families. His first son Wm in 1703 married Elizabeth Lane, daughter of George Lane Jr & wife Denise. The father of Denise, Nicholas Fontaine, a French Huguenot, had settled on Manokin Creek, cir 1683. The Lanes were their neighbors living close by on Fishing Island, at mouth of Manokin. William and Elizabeth continued to live at Greenfields. Walter's second son John went down into Virginia's Eastern Shore, Northampton Co., and there married Sarah, grand daughter of Governor Yeardley. William's son, Wm Jr., went across the Bay & up the Rappahannock R. into Prince William Co. There he met Eleanor, daughter of the Burgess, Col. Valentine Peyton, who lived near Aquia Creek, and married her in 1736. It seems probable that he lived on near Dumfries a few more years. His son Leven was born there 1737. In 1741, William Jr. went up with other land hunters into what is now Loudoun Co., and there patented 500 acres of land. Col. Francis Peyton, his bro-in-law, had already patented large tracts near present town of Aldie.

Burr Harrison of Chapawamsic also lived near Dumfries, and through the Peytons, the Harrisons were cousins of William Powell's children. Sarah Harrison was just Leven's age, so perhaps they knew each other long before they married, 1763. Just when Leven went to make his home on the lands patented by his father is not known, but as he was a Justice of the Peace, in 1769, of the newly formed County of Loudoun, he had probably established himself there a few years earlier.

It seems probable too that Leven soon began to operate his flour mill, which was one of his most important contributions to the community, and built his home The Shades some years prior to the Revolution. Bishop Meade in his "Old Churches & Families of Va.", lists the vestrymen of Shelburne Parish from 1771 to 1806, and includes Leven Powell & his two oldest sons William & Burr. The Bishop frequently emphasizes the significance of this office. The vestrymen were elected from the most prominent men of the neighborhood, because of their fine character and integrity, and they wielded great influence. Bishop Meade knew Leven's wife and thus describes her. "With Col. Powell's widow I was acquainted in the earlier years of my ministry. She was one whose fidelity to the Church no adversity could shake. When all others were deserting it, she continued steadfast. She was old-fashioned in all her ways, - in her dress, her home, her furniture, and domestic occupations. She lived in a plain house a little back of the main and indeed only street in Middleburg. On one of my journeys, while stopping on a summer's afternoon at that place, I walked over to her abode, and found her busily engaged at her wheel, spinning tow or flax on what was called the small wheel. The march of improvement has left behind much honest industry and substantial clothing."

The spelling of some of the names found on these pages is debatable. First, should it be Leven or Levin? This is a very common first name on the Eastern Shore, and there it is generally spelled -in; the uncle for whom he was named spelled it Levin. The Colonel, however, seemed to prefer the en, or he may have carelessly omitted the dotting of the i. The copy of his own signature, given under his picture on p. 3 seems to establish his preference for the en, so I thus spell it throughout. His descendants, you will see take their choice. I have found Cuthbert's home "Llangollen" written, ending with an, by members of the family, so here too we can take our choice. The name most variously spelled is Chapawamsie - Chipa, Chappa, wamsie, wamsie, etc. I selected the spelling found in a letter from Burr Harrison IX to Leven. As early as 1679, the first Burr was known as "Harrison of Chapawamsie." Its name means "by the separation of the outlet." (a delta formerly divided the 2 mouths of the stream)

Dumfries, settled by the Scots in the 1740's on Quantico Creek, was for its first 30 yrs. a more important town than Alexandria, because of tobacco and a good harbor. The Northern Neck, between the Potomac & Rappahannock Rivers extended far westward, and included all of the original old Stafford Co. In 1731, Prince William was carved out of it, with Chapawamsie Creek one of its boundaries. Fairfax Co. was separated from Prince Wm. 1742, then Loudoun was separated from Fairfax, 1757, in 1759 Fauquier was established.

Early in the eighteenth century land hunters from the Northern Neck were making their way into the "White Plains" section - those grass lands bordered by the Potomac, the Bull Run, and Goose Creek. The Indians called the area White Plains, because of the numerous outcroppings of white quartz. William Powell Jr. was one of the earliest patentees in that far western tract; his land embraced the site of the future town of Middleburg. In Henings Statutes for 1787, p. 605, is the Act for establishing a town on the lands of Levin Powell, in County of Loudoun. The Act was passed Nov. 2, 1787.

Mackenzies "Colonial Families of U.S." gives the following: "Capt William Powell sailed from Blackwell the 19th Dec. 1606 with Capt John Smith, entered Chesapeake Bay the 20th Apr. 1607. He was spoken of as a man of character & worth, a gentleman of great name and fortune, one of the largest planters in the Colony. He represented James City in first House of Burgesses, 1619. It is believed that Capt W<sup>m</sup> Powell was descended from the Powells of Castle Madoc, county Brecknock.

Dr. Robert Conrad Powell in his Biography and Letters of Leven Powell says the name was originally ap Howell; about 1550 W<sup>m</sup> ap Howell of Bwalt was called William Powell. This line traces back to Lord Brecon, reign of W<sup>m</sup> Rufus, 1087-1105.

One old record, source unknown, contains the following: "David of Castle Madoc, county Brecknock Wales, was grandfather of Thomas of Dale's Gift, who on way to Virginia, was wrecked off Bermuda, 1610. Thomas married in Bermuda, Elizabeth Pearson, they had son John, who had son Walter. This son Walter married Margaret Beere and had son William".

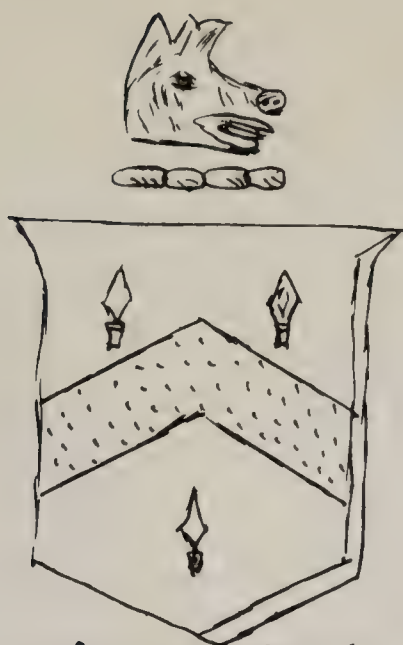

The following chart was sent to me a few months ago:

My home-made system, employed in the following charts may need explanation. You will see that each column represents a generation and is so numbered, starting from Walter as the first. Page 13 shows the generations from I to VI inclusive; please note carefully p. p 14 (1)(11)(111) for these are the Key pages. Here column I is repeated, showing the children of Leven, and of Leven's brothers, who have descendants, and giving the Key letters. On these two pages you will also see generation VII listed under their Key letters. As you go on through the following pages, you will see that the charts each start with generation VI, (using the Key letters) and carry on to present time, taking up in turn first all of A's descendants, then all of B's, and so on.

Note the few abbreviations:

dates indicated thus - day - month - year -	chl = children
(15-11-38 = 15 th Nov. 1938)	unm. = unmarried
b = born	bap = baptized	cir = about
d = died	b'd = buried	et als = more children by same parents
m = married	d.inp = died in infancy	d.s.p = died sine prole (without issue)

I regret to say it, but of course there will be errors in these charts, please do not credit me with all of them. In many instances I have found different dates recorded for one person's birth - or death - Names also vary a good deal. In some cases I have perhaps not read accurately the handwriting of a kind relative, so some unusual names may be mis-spelled. Where possible I have verified information obtained from all sources, and in several instances I have found important data given incorrectly. Where the fault is mine I beg you to remember that I am only an amateur at this task, and be lenient in your criticisms!

Since these charts are done by hand, you can make your own corrections on them. I shall be most grateful for attention called to any errors. The Va Historical Society is to have one of these books, and I would like each of you to help me make that copy an entirely accurate Master Chart, for public reference, so please send me any corrections you note.

I very much hope the Tree will continue to grow, and that the loose-leaf scheme will be used by all. The blank leaves are meant to be inserted just next to your own lines, so that your own particular branch can be carried on for years to come.

I list the main sources of my information:

Excursus Noland-

The family is undoubtedly Irish, but the name is so common throughout Ireland, and is spelled in so many different ways that it is impossible to trace our ancestors before they left Ireland. One source says the name was O'Nolan, and originally O'Nuallan, meaning "of the family of Nuallan, and that Nuallan means 'the Famous One'; he traces the family on down and gives our same coat of arms, so perhaps we are descendants of a Famous One!

Another states our name was derived from the good old English - no-land - The man who wanted no land in return for his services as a Crusader; he was, instead, rewarded with this coat of arms. Yet another claims the "d" was added to the Nolan by the first of our family to come to this country, just as a bit of Irish waggery, for he was a younger son and entirely landless. I'm inclined to favor this last tradition.

Philip Noland first appears on records of Stafford Co. Va., when in 1724, he took a grant of land on Broad Run. Shortly after, he married Elizabeth Awbrey, daughter of Francis Awbrey. In 1729 he built a home on tract of land near Goose Creek & Limestone. In 1748 he was living on the Patomac R. on Awbrey land. He was one of the earliest settlers on the banks of the Patomac. In 1749, he petitioned the Assembly for a license in county of Fairfax, now Loudoun, to run a public ferry from his Va land to the Maryland side, the location to be below Noland's Island, 2 miles above mouth of Monocacy. In July 1757 Loudoun Co. appointed Philip Noland Surveyor of the road from Great Limestone to Noland's Ferry. In 1769 he was on the bench as Judge in the Loudoun Co. Court. On Feb 21, 1777, Gov Patrick Henry did "constitute and appoint Philip Noland Esq. Sheriff of Loudoun Co. In 1778 he conveyed his Ferry lands to his son Thomas. Philip died 1794, his will dated Mar 15, was proved in Sept.

Thomas Noland served in Rev Army, & operated the Ferry till his death, in 1811.

Francis Awberry was the youngest son of John Awbrey. From 1717-1731, he was one of the Patomac names active in land speculations in territory afterwards Loudoun Co. In organization of Prince William Co, 1731, Francis Awbrey was on Commission. 1732 was member of Truro vestry. In 1739 was sheriff of Prince Wm Co. Towards end of his days he lived near Leesburg, called his home "Awberry". From 1733-35 he built Episcopal Chapel, the first church built in what is now Loudoun. He owned hundreds of acres of land on Potomac, above Goose Creek.

The Nolands and Lucketts inter-married several times. Thomas m'd Eleanor.

The Lucketts came from Kent, Eng. the name also spelled Lockett. Samuel Luckett, gent. was one of the earliest settlers of Port Tobacco, Charles Co, Md., was a well-to-do planter, had 4 sons. When the great western movement set in after Rev., some of the younger members of this family settled in northern Va Counties. Leven Luckett married Lelilia Peyton. His son Ludwell Lee Luckett 1796-1875, and Francis W Luckett, 1786-1869 are buried in M'b'g, they had many brothers, two of whom probably married Elizabeth & Molly Ann Noland. I cannot find the father of Eleanor. There are many Luckett stones in M'b'g cemetery.

Excursus Simms

Charles Simms, gent of Prince W<sup>m</sup> Co. Va was in Col. Charles Lewis' regiment of militia in Sept. 1774. & fought Indians. Simms then went to Fort Dunmore, capital of newly formed district of West Augusta, & there began practice of law. He purchased large tracts of land. In 1776 was delegate to Williamsburg. In Nov. '76 rec'd commission in V<sup>a</sup> Line, Cont'l Army. Simms & 2 friends, James Wood (later Gov. of V<sup>a</sup>) & Neville recruited each a regiment, west of the Mts. and with them reported to Gen. Washington, near Morristown, N.J. There during winter of '77 & '78 in camp he met Nancy Douglas, a beautiful & popular young lady. A N. J. newspaper, Dec. 28, 1778 has item "Married on Tuesday se'n night in this place Charles Simms, esq. Lieut Col. of Second V<sup>a</sup> Reg't. to the truly amiable Miss Nancy Douglas, daughter of Maj. W<sup>m</sup> Douglas, late of City of New York"

In letter dated Pr. W<sup>m</sup> Co. Nov. 8, 1779 to Pres. of Congress, he with regret begs leave to resign his commission. He establishes home in Alexandria. His title to the Western Lands was in doubt, when in 1783 the Penna. Assembly grants to Gen Irwin the very lands owned by Simms. Then began one of the most famous land grant cases - settled in 1800 in favor of Simms.

Maj. W<sup>m</sup> Douglas assigned his lands - 5000 A. granted for services - to Simms for £100.

In 1786 Simms was member of V<sup>a</sup> Assembly, so Nancy spent winter in N.Y. many charming letters, "Kitty and Douglas send their loves to you"

In 1802, Simms, then prominent attorney in Alex. was made a director of the Patowmack Co. in 1807, became its Pres. His most arduous public work was with this Company, which aimed to open communication with the Western country. Washington's life long effort was thus to secure, through the Potomac & James Rivers, the Ohio Country trade. (Levern Powell a director)

Simms was a vestry man of Christ Church, Alex., was one of Washington's honorary pallbearers. Was Mayor of Alex. 1814, during British occupation. He was a Federalist as was Levern Powell, the correspondence on political subjects of these two is worthy of publication.

Col Simms was a leader in every public enterprise, until his death in 1819.
